44A The Promenade Sanctuary Cove QLD 4212

Description

The Olympic 42' flush decked centre cockpit cruising ketch was designed by Ted Brewer with a hull built of solid GRP below and GRP and Balsa core above the waterline in Greece in 1986. She has cruised throughout the world since then and is a perfect long distance or live-aboard cruising yacht. She is comprehensively equipped with all you will need for safe comfortable offshore passage making. Ted Brewer designs are famed for their seaworthiness and sailing qualities and this yacht is no exception.

Her solid dodger protected cockpit can be fully enclosed against any weather and her fully furling ketch sail plan can be conveniently and easily handled from under cover.

Recently fitted with a new Yanmar 75hp diesel, rewired throughout and re-rigged with new standing rigging, she is ready to take you anywhere your cruising dreams dictate. A bow thruster makes easy work of marina access. Most of her electronics and communications items are also recent upgrades and include two autopilots, two GPS-plotters, Radar, HF and VHF radios. Two flat screen TVs and a Fusion sound system provide on-board entertainment.

She can sleep up to eight in comfort and she has massive storage throughout for extended periods at sea. Her spacious teak trimmed accommodation includes a generous aft double berth cabin with internal and external access and an ensuite electric toilet and hot shower. The forward cabin sleeps two with an adjacent second toilet and shower. The main saloon table drops to form an additional double berth. The galley is large and well equipped with gas stove, oven & grill plus twin sinks and a fridge and there is a second fridge and freezer up forward. A Magna BBQ is located on the aft deck.

If you are serious about comfortable coastal or blue water cruising, then this is a yacht you must consider. Please contact us for a detailed inventory.
